

John, Gavin, Adam
and Constance McInnis

KITCHEN CREATIONS

PHOTOGRAPHY JASON HARTOG

THE PLACE: In most homes, life revolves around the kitchen. As a multi-functional space, a well-designed kitchen remodel does much more than just add beauty and value to a home, it's a lifestyle improvement. We all use our kitchens in different ways, and the designers at Coxson-McInnis Custom Kitchens understand that kitchens are personal.

They strive to create the optimum balance of style and function in a way that's as personal and unique as each homeowner they work with. A fully integrated company with an Information and Design Centre in Burlington and a manufacturing facility in Mississauga, they build custom cabinetry using the finest quality local materials. This unique family-run business offers perhaps the widest range of remodelling options in Burlington. Whether clients choose to start fresh with a new custom design, restyle existing cabinets or simply re-door, Coxson-McInnis can deliver.

THE STYLE: Kitchens are where the best conversations happen and should be a dynamic space that pulls people together while still meeting the practical needs of daily dining. An island or peninsula will add a great work surface and facilitate social interaction – a place where family and friends can enjoy time with the cook and feel comfortably out of the way. Islands also provide the opportunity to add pot drawers, organizers, a recycling centre, vertical storage for cutting boards and baking sheets or other functional upgrades that simplify life.

WHAT'S HOT: For most style conscious homeowners, white is the colour of choice for kitchen cabinetry. It's crisp, fresh and timeless and enables other important elements such as stainless steel appliances, dark floors, exotic stone countertops and chic backsplashes to be featured without becoming overwhelming. Compartmentalized, formal spaces are being consolidated into open spaces that seamlessly connect everyday living activities.

DESIGN: Style is how we experiment with who we are and express that to people who matter. The team at Coxson-McInnis work with each client to create a unique space that is beautiful, functional and satisfies their personal lifestyle goals.

WHERE: 3480 Fairview St., Burlington 905.637.3331 | candm.ca OH